As part of this agreement, Sanhua will supply engineered components including valves, heat exchangers and drives across Carrier's HVAC and Refrigeration portfolios.

"This agreement will advance our strategic relationship with Sanhua, and we are pleased to welcome them as one of the newest Carrier Alliance suppliers with the execution of this expanded long-term agreement," said Ed Dunn, Vice President, Supply Chain, Carrier. "Through the Alliance program, we are expanding our relationships with a select group of top tier suppliers that share our expansive geographic reach, breadth of offering, focus on quality and cost, and commitment to developing high-efficiency solutions."
